

Justin is back to his best with model performance

MODEL Chloe Arnold's other half, Justin Manville, looks to be back to his best, after his embarrassing court appearance earlier this year.

The aspiring singer is due to make a return to his roots after being ordered in June to complete an anger-management course, an alcohol-awareness course and to pay a donation to charity after punching a friend after a "philosophical" discussion.

Justin will release his new single Temptation next month and there will be plenty of familiar faces popping up in the accompanying video.

The Diary can reveal that the video was filmed last week in the Penthouse suite of the Morgan Hotel and will feature Chloe, her sister Leigh Arnold, and models Laura Toogood and Martha Christie.

Fans will see the high-profile foursome dancing in the background in an assortment of black outfits.

"It was really fun," said Laura, who is dating Chloe and Leigh's brother Nicky Arnold. "We do a bit of dancing in it. Definitely no singing though."

"Chloe just asked us if we'd be interested in doing it and naturally we were happy to help out.

"He's going to have a big launch party for it in Residence on October 16, the night before Leigh's 30th birthday, so I'm sure it will be quite the celebration."

Multi-talented Assets lass Laura is working on her PhD and has just begun lecturing part-time in Information Studies at UCD.

Busy Laura even found time to head along to the Goffs Millions yesterday at the Curragh racecourse, turning heads in an eye-catching black hat from Foxrock Fillies.
